Program A | 7pm: Karen Bernard | Lisa Parra

Karen Bernard / Fleeting Glimpse

A black wooden chair. A black sequined curtain. A black faux fur blanket. A black laptop. A woman with white hair dressed in black sequined shorts and a matching black top. Choreographer Karen Bernard offers these disparate visual elements to the viewer in her latest work, Fleeting Glimpse, only to connect them by revealing their hidden inner vitality. Through surprisingly spare and inventive movement, Bernard demonstrates that movement itself is life, and despite its fleeting and transitory nature, we experience its pulse through gestures, sideways looks, and subtle shifts that reflect an internal light.

Lisa Parra / family reunion side two family reunion side two is an interdisciplinary solo performance based on audiotape recordings of Lisa Parra's mother's family reunion in 1999. With this work, Parra contemplates how prosody and memory resonate in both movement and vocalization.
